DETROIT MAYOR FACES RECALL IN ELECTION TODAY

Is Accused Of Tolerating Lawlessness By His Enemies

Detroit, July 22—(AP)—Mayor Charles Bowles, elected last fall on a reform platform, is before the voters today with an accusation one of the charges.

While Mayor Bowles was in Louisville last May attending the Kentucky Derby his Police Commissioner, Harold H. Emmons, ordered raids on race betting establishments in which nearly 300 arrests were made. The mayor returned to Detroit and the recall move which culminated today in a special election to decide whether Mayor Bowles shall continue in office.

Friends of the Mayor have declared that Commissioner Emmons' "double crossed" his chief in ordering the raids while the Mayor was attending a horse race, and Mayor Bowles stated he had intended to discharge Emmons for failure to enforce gambling laws and "fired him in spite of rather than because of" the raids on Derby Day.

But the discharge of Emmons was made the central argument for recall of Mayor Bowles. Within a few days recall petitions were placed in circulation.

Efforts to prevent the election failed. Finally the State Supreme Court ruled an election must be held. A two week's campaign, conducted almost entirely by radio followed.

Election officials predicted today's vote would be heavy. A simple majority of the voters cast is required to decide the issue.

AIR CARAVAN PLANS VISIT TO THIS CITY

on the day that the tour ends. This will be one of the most outstanding air events ever held and will attract world-wide attention and attendance.

The state of Illinois is especially fortunate in having these races within its borders, as much good for aviation will result from them.

We feel sure that we will have several more ships at the end of the tour than at the start, as many will join the aerocade and fly with it to the Curtis-Wright-Reynolds airport.

Itinerary Planned
The itinerary is tentative as yet, but plans are being made to go, if possible, into the following cities and towns: Elgin, Rockford, DeKalb, Dixon, Sterling, Kewanee, Moline, Monmouth, LaSalle, Streator, Peoria, Bloomington, Springfield, Decatur, Mattoon, Centralia, Marion, East St. Louis, Champaign or Rantoul, Danville and Kankakee, thence to Curtis-Wright-Reynolds airport.

This does not include all the places from which invitations have been received and it may be necessary to omit a few of these; however, as many stops as possible will be made.

In 1928 the cities where noon stops were made a complimentary luncheon to those on the tour and where night stops were made a complimentary dinner was furnished. This practice will be followed this year, also. It is a very gracious gesture to those on the flight, as a tour of this kind costs the participants some money and they all appreciate this courtesy.

Stanolind is Flagship
The Stanolind, the tri-motored Ford of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, will be the flagship as well as the weather ship. The weather ship feature will be of great value to the others on the tour. Two years ago we did not have any weather reports other than at Moline and at Belleville.

The Waco Aircraft of Troy, Ohio, will have a factory representative, Paul Waukeer airport will have either a Bellanca or a Stearman, the Midwest Airways Corporation, John Livingston, will have a Ryan Waco or Mono-Coach, the Vacuum Oil Company will have a Stinson-Detroiter or a Curtiss Robin, or both, the Lerner Aircraft Company of Pentwater, Michigan, will have an entry, the Cities Service Company will have their Boeing Transport plane, the National Air Race Corporation will have one or more, and the Curtis Flying Service will have from three to nine ships.

Other companies which have expressed a good possibility of accompanying the tour are: Alexander Aircraft, Colorado Springs; Art Carnahan, Bloomington; Overcashier Aircraft Manufacturing Company, Detroit; Elgin National Watch Company; General Aircraft Operators, Chicago; Reid Murdoch and Company, Chicago; Fairchild Airplane Manufacturing Company, New York; Pheasant Aircraft Company, Incorporated, Fond du Lac; Davis Aircraft Corporation, Richmond, Ind.; Command-Aire, Incorporated, Little Rock, Ark.; National Air Transport, Incorporated; Public Service Company of Northern Illinois; Walgreen Company; Celotex Company; the Chicago Tribune; the Curtis Publishing Company; the Blooming Daily Pantagraph and the Parks Air College, East St. Louis.

Many other companies are interested in the tour but are unable to give us any information so far in advance. We have every reason to believe that the tour will have even more planes in it this year than in 1928.

M. C. Meigs, Vice Chairman of the Aviation Committee, will accompany the tour again this year and will have charge of the arrangements. Mr. Meigs is a practical aviator with a pilot's license and has had considerable experiences in the air.

Each flyer will be furnished a map showing the route, location of landing fields, obstructions, etc. All pilots must have complied with the requirements of the United States Department of Commerce. No airplane that has not received the approval of the Department of Commerce will participate. No plane will carry more passengers than the normal seating capacity will accommodate.

Safety above everything also is the keynote of the tour, and with the co-operation and assistance all interested success is sure.

Judge Indicates He'll Give Child Back to Its Mother

Chicago, July 22—(UP)—Edna Lopinot, 19, of East St. Louis, Ill., slender and brown-eyed, braved Judge John Sbarbaro's courtroom today and pleaded for the return of her 14-month-old baby.

Judge Sbarbaro smiled at the unwed mother as he told her to come back tomorrow. She left with hope that he would rule in her favor.

The judge indicated that if Edna, who faces charges of child abandonment, can convince him the baby is hers, he will return it to her.

The baby is "Smiling Jimmy" Stevens, named "Smiling Jimmy" at St. Vincent's Orphanage because of his disposition, and "Stevens" after the hotel where his mother and grandmother abandoned him three months ago when they despaired of supporting him.

Despite widely published offers of assistance for the mother, she did not reveal herself until yesterday when she appeared to claim the child.

Readily she admitted that the child was born out of wedlock. It's father, she said, was a married man. Her mother corroborated her when she said he had not seen the baby, perhaps did not know of it.

"I want the baby back now," Edna told the judge today. "I want him so much and I'm willing to do anything to get him. You should have seen him smile when he recognized me yesterday."

"The baby will have a good home," William McKinley, attorney for Edna, told the judge. "I admire this girl's courage, and I am sure she is willing and able to support the child. I'll even support him myself. I've got three children of my own, but I guess I can care for another."

Judge Sbarbaro then continued the case for a day, and Edna went out to the orphanage with her mother, to cuddle "Smiling Jimmy."

G. O. P. CAMPAIGN LEADERS CALLED INTO CONFERENCE

Opposition to Sen. Moses As Chairman Committee Heard

By THOMAS L. STOKES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, July 22—(UP)—Developments were expected today in the move of Republican party leaders to reorganize their forces preparatory to the heated campaign with the Democrats in the congressional elections this fall, now that the Senate has adjourned.

Senator George H. Moses, New Hampshire, chairman of the Senatorial Campaign committee, faced members of his committee who have decried his resignation at a meeting at the Capitol today at 10 A. M. with indications a compromise will be patched up providing for Moses' retention of his important post.

Leaders who had understood that Chairman Claudius H. Huston of the National Committee would resign soon after the Senate had quit work, were watching this situation with keen interest.

Moses has been under fire from the "Young Turk" group in the Senate for months, first for his designation of western Republicans as "sons of the wild jackasses" and more recently because of his staunch opposition to the London Naval treaty and his ridicule of Secretary of State Stimson.

His differences with the campaign committee, which is made up of the "Young Turk" element, were smoothed out temporarily after the "wild jackass" incident, but their resentment flared up again recently.

Moses stood virtually alone for Huston and in the recent meeting of officers of the committee and chairmen of the Senatorial and Congressional campaign committees with Huston, and some of the resentment is understood to grow from the New Hampshire Senator's championing of the much criticized National Chairman.

Some leaders raised the question that Moses' criticism of Western Republican Senators would handicap the campaign west of the Mississippi, where Democrats will make a hard fight this year. The compromise that is reported to have been arranged provides Moses will not go into any western states unless invited there, and that the western campaign will be under direction of Senator Steiwer, Repn., Ore., who is vice-chairman of the committee.

NAVAL PACT IS APPROVED 58-9, SENATE ADJOURNS

Vote Is Reached Late Monday After Twelve Days Of Talk

BY LYLE C. WILSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, July 22—(UP)—Senators scattered to their homes today with the London naval treaty ratified but a sterner fight developing over whether the United States shall spend $1,071,000,000 to build up its provisions.

Ratification of the treaty becomes effective when the Japanese and American ratifications are deposited in the Foreign Office archives in London.

The resolution for ratification already has been submitted to the British House of Commons. Japan is in the midst of an anti-treaty fight even more bitter than that which ended here yesterday with the Senate voting 58 to 9 for ratification. However, early Japanese ratification is considered assured.

Beginning slowly on the 12th day of the session, the Senate first acted upon the reservation proposed by Senator Norris, Repn., Nebr., repudiating all secret documents or agreements which may pertain to the treaty. After brief debate the reservation was accepted. It previously had been modified to be acceptable to the pro-treaty majority.

Then the Senate took up the other reservations. Senator Walsh, Dem., Mass., first felt the weight of the Senate majority. His reservation was next and lost, 54 to 11. Then, in quick succession, the Senate dealt with 12 others in similar fashion. Chairman Hale of the Naval Affairs committee sensed the temper of the Senate. His reservations were withdrawn.

Nine "Die Hards"
Senator Hiram Johnson, Repn., Calif., fought on until the end, along with Senators Moses, Repn., N. H., and McKellar, Dem., Tenn. But as fast as they offered their propositions the Senate bowed them over. Nine members of the anti-treaty group held out until the final vote.

They were: Bingham, Conn., Hale, Me., Johnson, Calif., Moses, N. H., Oddie, Nev., Pine, Okla., Robinson, Ind., McKellar, Tenn., and Walsh, Mass. All save McKellar and Walsh are Republicans.

There is no doubt that Great Britain and Japan will maintain tonnage to the limit allotted by the treaty. What the American policy shall be was the question around which centered debate on the first reservation rejected yesterday.

This reservation, proposed by Walsh, was to put the Senate on record whether it desired to build up to treaty levels in submarines, destroyers and eight-inch gun cruisers.

To Fight Appropriations
Senator LaFollette, Repn., Wis., sounded the pitch for his progressive colleagues when he announced he would oppose the appropriations to begin building a treaty navy when they are submitted to the Senate next December.

Walsh warned the Senate that powerful blocs of public opinion had supported the treaty with the intention of preventing the building for which it calls. He emphasized that President Hoover was not on record on the question of suspending the $1,071,000,000 required to build up to treaty levels. He said the Senate was entitled to know how Mr. Hoover stood, but he was not supported in his quest for information.

Inquiry at the Navy Department developed equal uncertainty. The United Press was informed that in view of Mr. Hoover's new economy program no sum to be asked of the next Congress for naval building had been fixed.

ABANDON GLIDER CLUB.

Plans for the organization of a glider club among aviation enthusiasts of Dixon and vicinity by representatives of firms manufacturing gliders have been outlined, but enthusiasm along this line of aerial pastime has been lacking and the prospects of perfecting such an organization here have practically been abandoned, it was announced today.

The fact that none of the limited number of fliers in Dixon and vicinity own planes and are opposed to the purchasing of the fragile gliders for the sole purpose of entertainment, has resulted in the failure of such an organization. Those who have had experience in flying planes are more interested in the ownership of planes than gliders, it was explained.

To Honeymoon On the Island of Madeira

London, July 22—(UP)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, and his bride, the former Mrs. Helen McCallum of New York, were enroute on a honeymoon to the Island of Madeira today after their secret wedding here.

The Bishop and Mrs. Cannon will go from Madeira to Brazil, where he will resume his work as director of missions in the Brazilian field for his church.

Confirmation that the wedding occurred was given by Sir Henry Lunn, a friend of Bishop Cannon and Mrs. Cannon, who said the ceremony was performed in Christ Church, Mayfair, a week ago. A special license was granted by the Archdeacon of Canterbury after Sir Henry had requested it. United States Ambassador Charles G. Dawes also wrote the Archbishop asking that he grant a special license.

Sir Henry said Bishop Cannon and the present Mrs. Cannon were guests at his home last year. They have been friends for some time.

The marriage of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., to Mrs. Helen McCallum in London last week was his second. His first wife, the former Miss Lura Virginia Bennett, whom he married in 1888, died two years ago. Bishop Cannon recently was examined by the Senatorial lobby committee in connection with his prohibition activities and his trading on the stock market through a now defunct "bucket shop." His activities in the latter connection also were inquired into by a committee of his church's general conference, but he was given a vote of confidence after he promised to refrain from further stock market trading.

Civic Music Attractions for Next Year Listed; Dates Set

Most interesting is the announcement which includes the list of the talent for the next season's course of concerts under the auspices of the Civic Music Association. The talent listed includes Charles Hackett, America's great romantic tenor; Coe Glade a charming young contralto of the Chicago Civic Opera Company; and the Gordon String Quartet.

Dates of Attractions
The dates for the Civic Music attractions for the coming season are as follows: Charles Hackett, Oct. 26; Coe Glade, Jan. 18; Gordon String Quartet, April 12.

Charles Hackett
Some of the comments of the press are as follows:
"There was Charles Hackett as the Duke, singing as he never sang before."—Edward Moore in Chicago Tribune.

Mr. Hackett appears here Oct. 26.
"And Hackett! We may be pardoned another exclamation point for Hackett astounded even his admirers."—Herman Devries in Chicago American.
"His command both of color and coloratura is remarkable, and he sang the florid bravura aria in the first act with an ease and brilliancy which electrified the audience and secured the instantaneous and imperative demand for repetition."—New York Times.

Gordon String Quartet
The New York Times states: "The highest praise must be accorded the ensemble for the velvety quality of tone, the fine balance and scholarly musicianship."
"They played the work with sincerity and artistic charm."—Washington Evening Star.
The Gordon String Quartet appears here April 12.

Miss Glade, Contralto
"Miss Coe Glade is without doubt the white hope of all the young American singers. Her voice was nothing short of superb."—Edward Moore, in the Chicago Tribune.
Miss Glade possesses a contralto voice of much richness and power and her press notices are all most flattering. Her performance in Dixon will be a treat to all who will hear her. Miss Glade appears in Dixon Jan. 18.

Have You Heard?

You can simulate the effects of expensive tiled steps by using stencils and bright paint on the risers. Select a simple stencil design, a primitive design, if you will. Paint the risers a rich cream enamel. When thoroughly dry, apply the stencils, fill in with marine blue, wood greens, a little terra cotta and some sunny yellow or whatever colors you want.

Fairchild Reunion Was Held Sunday

Those present to enjoy their annual picnic at Clark's Grove were: Mrs. Clara Fairchild of Compton, and her sister, Mrs. Mary Runchy, of Algonia, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vocum and family, Mr. and Mrs. Byron McCracken and daughter Mildred, of Franklin Grove, Miss Hilda Vocum of Franklin Grove and Jake Adams of Chana, Mr. and Mrs. William Aughenbaugh and family of West Brooklyn, Mrs. Gladys Robinson and daughter Ruth Ellen and Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Youngblood and daughter Margaret and the former's father, Mr. Youngblood Senior all of Rockford.

ORGANDIE, STRAW COMBINED IN HATS—

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hats of combined pink organdie and straw framed bridesmaids' faces at a recent fashionable capital wedding. The dresses were of pink organdie, made with short capes of the same material. Pink crystal necklaces carried out the color scheme. The matron of honor wore a deep pink organdie, the maid of honor a somewhat lighter shade while delicate shell pink adorned the bridesmaids. Pink lace mitts were worn by all the feminine members of the bridal party.

CRUSH LONG GLOVES IF YOU'D BE CHIC—

PARIS (AP)—Long gloves for daytime wear should be worn crushed down at least two inches below the elbow, says a male dressmaker of influence.

YOUR CHILDREN
by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON 1930 BY WEA SERVICE, INC.

"Jerry, I'll just have to go and pick up that baby."
"You shouldn't."
"But I can't let him scream himself sick. Maybe he has colic."
"You just sit where you are. It's nice and cool and peaceful out here. Besides, I haven't seen you all day. I want to talk to you."
They sat in the swing. The belching upstairs increased in volume and purpose. Five minutes passed.
"Jerry, I can't stand it. Please let me go."
"Well, go on. And good night. I suppose you'll rock him for an hour and hold his hand and think what a grand mother you are."
"That's hateful. He's such a lamb—slept nearly all day, and he was so sweet. I wish you could see him when he's that way."
"I never do, though. He yelps every minute I'm home, unless he's being entertained."
"I don't see why the books say to put babies to bed at six o'clock," she sighed. "But it would be nice if he'd sleep and let us have our evenings in peace."
He didn't answer, for he knew what she would do.

The Same Routine
Helen went up. The crying ceased. Then, after half an hour, it started again. Jerry knew the signs. Helen had picked up the baby and rocked him, then tried to lay him down.

He knew the next move too. Sure enough Helen came down carrying a small, delighted object that smelled of talcum.

"Hello, David. I thought you'd liked Mrs. Goliath. How's the pain?" "Better," answered Helen. "I really think he was suffering. There, sweetness, now we're all nice and comfy out on this nice cool porch. Oh, Jerry, here come the Barclays! For goodness sake, what'll we do now?"

"Ask the baby—he knows," answered her husband, rising to greet the guests.

The evening passed, with Helen trying every half hour to put the baby back to bed, periods of screaming and then another weary trip to the second floor, sounds of a rocker and the eventual surrender. Down he would come again where the lights were, and the people and the talking. A hectic time was had by all.

A Reverse Schedule

The baby went to sleep at 12, when Helen and Jerry dropped into bed. But he was up at 3 and entertained the despot until 5. In the morning she slept until 9, and so did the baby. He had his breakfast, his bath, and his mid-morning bottle, then he went peacefully to sleep and slept all day.

The trouble was that the baby had day and night turned around. He wasn't tired at night and had been conditioned into fussing when he didn't want to be left alone.

If he'd been roused early in the morning and allowed two naps of two hours each through the day, and not after 3 in the afternoon, by evening he would have been tired enough to sleep all night, except for his 10 o'clock bottle.

Dinner Dance Was Enjoyed at C. Club

Last evening an enjoyable event took place at the Dixon Country Club, a dinner dance, which proved a decided success and which was attended by seventy-two people.

An attractively appointed dinner was served, the tables being decorated with pink garden flowers and pink tapers, the favors and nut cups being pink and green. Following the dinner dancing proved enjoyable because of the delightful coolness of the evening. Punch was served during the evening.

Mary Pickford Denies Divorce Rumor

Hollywood, Cal., July 21—(UP)—Rumors that Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks were contemplating a divorce were denied vigorously by Mary Pickford at Pickfair, today.

"I honestly never knew that any body hated me enough to start such a terrible report," she said. "Of course there is not a vestige of truth in it. I can't understand how people can say such things."

SUNBURN LINGERIE PARIS' LATEST FAD—
PARIS (AP)—Sunburn tinted lingerie of sheerest chiffon is an offering of the last moment here. Nightgowns, chemises and dance sets are made from mousseline de soie of the shade which comes closest to matching the sunburn. Fine lace of the same tint provides the trimming.

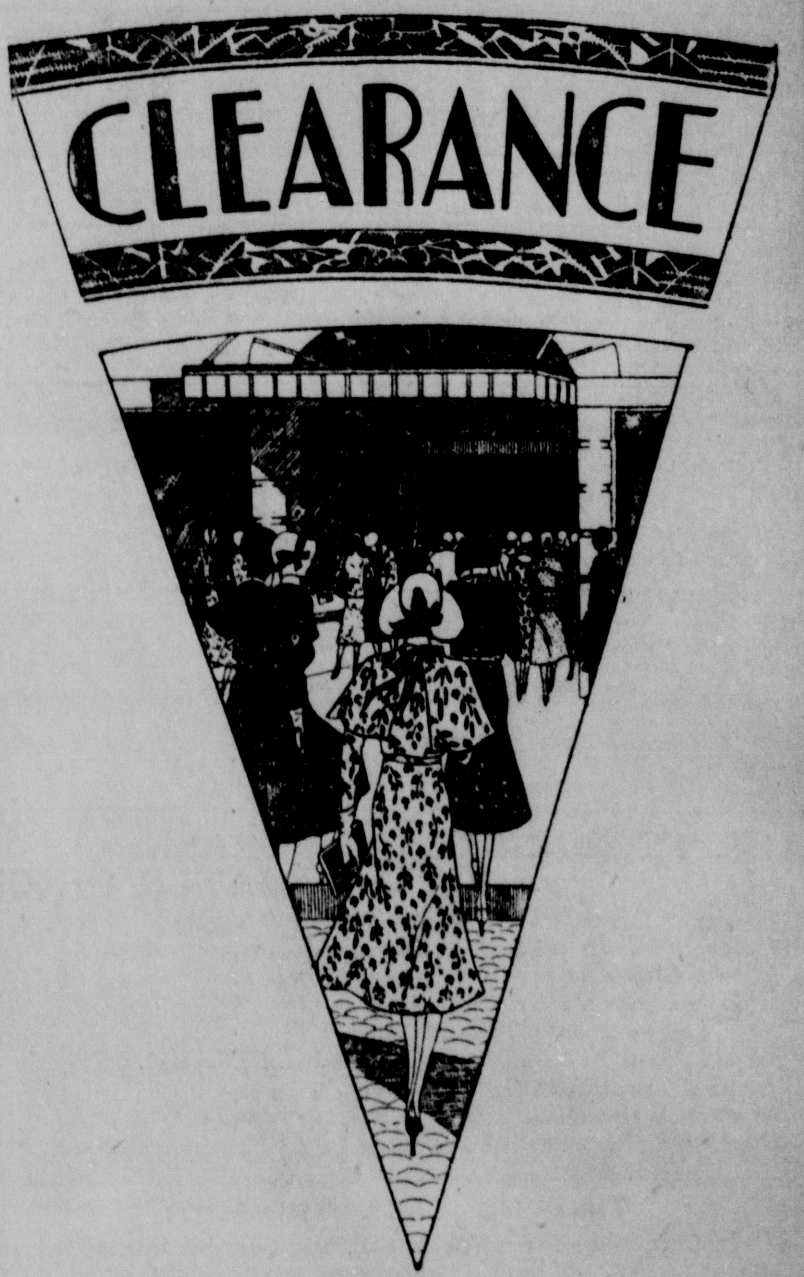

MR. AND MRS. GRAYBALL GUESTS HERE—
Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Grayball of Glenn Ellyn, Ill., motored here for the week-end. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Sinclair of 1028 Third street, renewing a most delightful friendship which started when both couples were guests at a hotel in Clearwater, Florida, last winter.

TIME TO TAKE THOUGHT.

As long as times were booming, our current industrial and economic system seemed fairly easy to understand. Life was just one long process of expansion. Some new miracle had made the sky the limit for practically everything.
Wages were always going to rise, sales records were always going to go higher, and business generally was always going to be better, each year, than it had been the year before.

It was beautifully simple, and it bred in most of us an optimism that was one of the prodigies of the age.

Now that things aren't doing quite so nicely, this optimism is giving way to a pessimism equally excessive. Sackcloth and ashes are having their day. The industrial system that formerly looked so simple now seems complex beyond human understanding.

A good deal of the trouble, perhaps, grows out of the fact that our mechanical processes went ahead faster than our intellectual activities. We had never bothered to try to understand this queer combination of financial and mechanical puzzles which brought prosperity. Now we are being forced to think about them; it is no longer possible simply to take the result for granted.

The upshot probably will be that we shall get back on the highway to prosperity with a much clearer idea of what the whole business is about, and consequently a much better chance of getting there, than was the case before.

For the present, however, the whole thing is very perplexing.

The chief trouble in nearly every line of business, from agriculture to the manufacture of automobiles, seems to be over-production. We have brought forth more wheat, more automobiles, more bricks, more suits of clothes than can be sold. The result—idle farm lands, and factories which are working on a part-time basis, if at all.

But what is the remedy? A strict curtailment of production all around? This means that many farm lands and many factories must remain idle permanently. More serious than that, it also means that many laborers must do the same. Is that the only way out? If so, we are indeed in a bad fix.

The optimism that carried us along during the last half dozen years must come to the rescue now and persuade us that there is a better solution. Somewhere there is a way by which we can use to the utmost our amazing facilities for producing things without, at the same time, clogging the channels of trade with a surplus. It is up to us to find this way. If the current business depression compels us to stop and take thought so that we do find it, we shall be amply repaid for the trouble it has caused us.

TEXAS AND CALIFORNIA.

The fact that Texas is ahead of California in the new census returns leads one to the notion that these two states will probably be putting on a very interesting battle for honors in population, production and prosperity during the next two or three decades.

California made an amazing growth in population during the last 10 years—but so did Texas. Nature has been extraordinarily kind to California in the matters of climate and natural resources—but she has been equally kind to Texas.
If more than five and one-half million Americans have chosen to make California their home state, an even larger number, has picked Texas.

Each state will continue to grow. Each has an enormous amount of land. Each is fertile, blessed with mineral resources, capable of supporting many more people than it now contains. Each, in fact, is an empire in itself. It will be interesting to watch their future development.

It wouldn't surprise us if this talk about a United States of Europe were just another bit of propaganda to prevent the American tourist from becoming homesick.

Maybe the controversy as to whether it is proper to say
"down in Maine" or "up in Maine" can be decided from the manner in which the Lindberghs travel to their summer home in that state.

There may be news from the capital even after the Senate adjourns. Correspondents there are like as not to throw another one of those spelling bees.

Two French girls propose to pedal a hydro-bicycle across the English channel. They'll find it pretty rough sport.

Philadelphia Dan O'Brien, king of hoboes, suggests that the city erect a 50,000-room hotel for bums. What most of them ask for, however, is not a room, but a nickel for a cup of coffee.

The convict who learned to play seven different musical instruments while serving a sentence is probably the fellow who was sent to jail to keep out of a racket.

As Clowny tasted of the soup, he jumped and let out one loud whoop.
"Why, what's the matter?" Scooty cried. "Your tongue was burned, I'll bet." Poor Clowny snapped,
"You bet it was. That first taste startled me because it was too hot.
I'll wait a while. Then cool I'm sure 'twill get."

The other Tinsies waited, too, which was the real wise thing to do. And then they all enjoyed the soup, with crackers on the side. No single mouthful went to waste,
'cause it was cooked to proper taste.
Said Coppy, "I feel great now. That's the best soup I have tried."

They thanked the soup man for his treat and then they sauntered down the street. 'Twas getting toward dusk of day and nearing time for sleep. The Travel Man said, "Well, let's hike to a hotel. I think you'll like it. The beds are soft and all night long I know you'll never peep."

It didn't take so long to find the little place he had in mind. They walked right in and went to bed and all slept very sound. At dawn they jumped up, feeling good and dressed as quickly as they could. And then they went out for a walk where new sights could be found.

"Oh, look!" cried Carpy. "What I see is quite a pretty sight to me."
The others looked and saw a flock of sheep not far away. Wee Clowny walked right up to one and said,
"Here's where I have some fun. He is a friendly fellow and I think he wants to play."

"Hey! Ride him," Coppy loudly cried. "I'll bet he will be hard to ride." So Clowny hopped right on the and found the riding tough. The sheep began to jump around and kick his feet up off the ground.
Soon Clowny shouted, "Help me off.
This sheep plays much too rough."

CLEVELAND FOUNDED
On July 22, 1796, General Moses
Cleveland, the American pioneer, founded the city of Cleveland, Ohio.
General Cleveland had been sent out by the Connecticut Land Company to survey its purchase of a tract of land known as the "Connecticut Western Reserve." He selected the mouth of the Cuyahoga river at Lake Erie for a settlement, which took his name.

The founder was born in Connecticut and practiced law. He served in the Revolutionary War and became brigadier general of militia in 1796.

The form of the name was altered,
in 1831, to Cleveland by the editor of the Cleveland Advertiser, who wished to economize space for a headline.

In 1800, Cleveland had a population of 57, but when it was incorporated in 1814, it had grown to approximately 100.

Cleveland was chartered as a city in 1836. In the early fifties it was first connected by rail with the east and with other Ohio cities and from this period dates its rapid growth to its present size of 900,000.

YANKS' CHANCES TO TRIUMPH IN CUP GAME GOOD

Much Depends On Draw to Pair Players in Davis Cup Tourney

BULLETIN
Auteuil, France, July 22—(AP)—Indications today were that Big Bill Tilden would be in perfect condition when the United States' Davis Cup team takes the courts in Roland Garros Stadium for the challenge round matches with France on Friday.

Big Bill turned an ankle in practice yesterday a few hours after it was definitely announced he would be a member of the American team. For a time it was feared the injury would be serious but physicians later declared he would be fit for the first day's play on Friday.

Tilden's ankle was much better today. He is confident he will be in good shape by Friday when he once more assumes the principal role in the Davis Cup drama he has dominated for so many years, in victory or defeat.

BY DIXON STEWART
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, July 22—(UP)—Victory in the 1930 Davis Cup challenge round between France and the United States appeared likely today to hinge on Thursday's draw for the opening singles matches.

If fate pits William Tilden against Jean Borotra in the opening day's play, tennis critics believe the United States will have better than an even chance of ultimate victory.

Tilden and George Lott have been named to play the singles for the United States, with Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn teaming in the doubles. Henri Cochet and Jean Borotra will carry France's hopes in the singles with either Cochet and Jacques Brugnon or Cochet and Borotra playing the doubles.

Cochet is believed almost certain to win both of his singles matches, while the United States' is conceded victory in the doubles and in Tilden's singles match with Borotra. The Lott-Borotra singles match is expected to be the deciding contest of the series.

Borotra defeated Lott in an opening day singles match last year, but tennis critics believe the American will have at least an even chance of victory if he plays the bounding Basque on the final day, after the Frenchman has been through the strain of a singles match with Tilden and possible competition in the doubles.

Although Cochet is recognized as the world's greatest singles player, he is taking on a heavy assignment in playing in both singles and doubles, and there is a strong possibility that he might fall before Tilden.

France has been favored by the draw during the past two seasons and if the cup defenders are fortunate enough to obtain a Tilden-

Carries New and Different Medicine With Him Every Day While Traveling In Auto.

A. J. FRANKS

Results are what count, not promises and claims. Konjola has won a million friends simply by doing the things it is designed to do. Take for example, the experience of Mr. A. J. Franks, traveling salesman, of Morton, near Peoria. He says:

"A year ago my liver and kidneys became affected; my appetite disappeared; I became very nervous and could not sleep at night, but by day, while driving my car, I had difficulty in keeping awake. My condition became steadily worse. A friend urged me to try Konjola and glad I am that I took his advice. I have taken a dozen bottles of Konjola, and all my health problems have been solved. I carry Konjola with me always. My mother and father, too, have had splendid results from the use of this remarkable medicine."

Thus Konjola works, swiftly and surely, yet it is recommended that a treatment of from six to eight bottles be used for best results.

"Konjola is sold and recommended by all the better drug stores in Dixon, Illinois and throughout this section."

Cochet, Lott-Borotra drawing the opening matches this season they will be strong favorites to retain the trophy.

America's chance of an ultimate victory may be further strengthened by the desire of Cochet and Borotra to avenge the defeat suffered last year at the hands of Van Ryn and Allison in the doubles.

The French stars are unwilling to concede superiority to the American youngsters in the doubles and unless France wins both of the opening days singles matches and considers a doubles victory unnecessary, Cochet and Borotra will gamble chances of an ultimate victory on an attempt to defeat Allison and Van Ryn in the doubles.

The American doubles combination generally is believed superior to Cochet and Borotra and if the Frenchmen play and lose, America's singles players, with an additional day of rest, will have a big advantage in the final day's play.

The international squad now includes, Hitchcock, Eric Pedley, Elmer Boeske, Stephen Sanford, Earle A. S. Hopping, Harold E. Talbot, Jr., W. Averell Harriman, Winston Guest, Stewart Iglehart, Robert E. Strawbridge, Jr., J. C. Rathborne, Rube Williams and Pete Bostwick.

Manager Joe McCarthy, the minor leagues who made good in the "Big Time" without previous major league experience, today had the Chicago Cubs again out in front, setting the pace in the hectic National League pennant scramble.

The Cubs moved into the ruling seat yesterday by blanking the Giants 6 to 0 while the Robins were breaking even with the St. Louis Cardinals. Brooklyn taking the first 9 to 8 and the Cards the closing contest 17 to 10. The Cubs' victory and the Robins' even break sent the champions to the front by one-half game. Here is how the standing looks today: Chicago, won 52, lost 37 for .584; Brooklyn, won 50, lost 36 for .581.

Hack Wilson, the National League's hom run king, played an important role in the Cubs' victory. He pounded out his twenty-eighth and twenty-ninth homers, which coupled with ty-ninth homers, which coupled with Eddie Farrell's hit of the same nature accounted for five runs. The other was a gift from Roy Parmalee, who relieved Tiny Chaplin in the seventh.

Pinch home runs were almost as common as base hits in the Robins-Cardinals fracas. Bottomley and Puccinelli were called in from the Cardinals dugout in the first game and they made good with home runs, which coupled with homers by Frisch and Mancuso totaled St. Louis' eight runs in the opener. They all went for nought, however, when Manager Robinson sent Harvey Hendrick in to bat for Finn in the ninth with two men on base, two out and the Robins trailing by two runs. Harve sent the ball over the fence, three runs crossed the plate and the game was over. The second contest was all Cardinals however, as they pounded old Adolfo Luque from the mound and then fell on Elliott, Dudley and Clark. Frisch connected with his second home run of the day and Lee hit one for Brooklyn as a pinch hitter in the first inning. The Phillies trimmed the Pirates 7 to 2.

The leaders in the American League found the going tough, the Athletics losing to the Tigers 7 to 6 and the Senators dropping their second successive game to the Browns 6 to 4.

Although held to five hits by Hadley, Brown and Liska, the Browns took advantage of nine bases on balls to defeat the Senators, Stewart, who went the route for the winners, scattered Washington's ten hits.

The Yankees defeated the Indians 7 to 3.

Boston broke up the White Sox three-game winning streak by taking the final of the series 3 to 1 behind Horace Lisenbee's fine pitching. The Sox' total hits numbered five, three made by Carl Reynolds. The game was the fastest of the season at Comiskey Park, being played in one hour, 24 minutes.

Alexander Seems To Know He's Through
Dallas, Texas, July 22—(UP)—"Old Pete" Alexander, whose attempt to "come back" ended yesterday in an unconditional release from the Dallas Club in the Texas State League, was planning today "an exhibition tour" to keep in contact with the game.

His attempt to come back with the Dallas club, after being dismissed earlier in the season from the Philadelphia National League pitching staff, came to a sorry end Sunday when he was given a call against Wichita Falls, league leaders.

The game had run to a thirteenth inning deadlock. Alexander was sent to the mound. As he drew back his once perfect throwing arm, he slipped and wrenched his knee. He retired after pitching six straight balls.

Yesterday, Old Alex' team mates started for Houston, where they open a series today, and Alexander was left behind to await their call—a call he knew he wouldn't receive.

Later a messenger delivered a check and a document which made Pete a free agent.

"I'd like to go to Chicago for a while," he said, "and I'll probably go ahead with some sort of an exhibition tour. But other than that I have no plans. I'm afraid I'm through."

Carnera Must Go Back To The Army

Omaha, July 22—(AP)—An Italian army uniform and oblivion—that is the future for Primo Carnera, giant Venetian heavyweight, according to Frank Paccassi, business manager of the Carnera troupe.

Paccassi gave expression to his views last night after reading a telegram from Byron H. Uhl, Assistant Commissioner of Immigration, stating that an extension of the stay in the United States had been denied the big boy and Leon See, his French manager.

Paccassi disclosed that Carnera's managers had obtained from Premier Mussolini, himself, an extension which the time for Primo's induction into the Duce's forces was advanced six months. That extension is now near expiration and the day on which the ring gladiator must turn from pugilistic to military science is fast approaching.

About $25,000,000 was lost by citizens of New York to bucket shop operators and dealers in fraudulent securities in the first five months of this year.

PLANS FOR STATE FAIR GO FORWARD MOST FAVORABLY

Superintendents Of Various Departments Are Selected

Springfield, Ill. —(UP)—Offering of honey cookery premiums will form a novel feature of the Culinary show of the Illinois State fair, August 16 to 23, according to plans of the fair management announced here. This innovation is the outgrowth of an effort put forth by the beekeepers of Illinois, at their 1929 convention, to stimulate the demand for honey in the state.

With the approval of state fair Springfield High school home economics teacher, who will superintend the culinary section of the fair, has formulated the initial offering of premiums in this division. Its future the fair officials state, depends upon the extent to which the prize cake and candy makers participate.

Members of the state fair advisory board, appointed Governor L. L. Emmerson, and organized with Homer J. Tice, Greenville, as chairman, have been assigned to supervise the sundry departments of the 1930 exposition.

The board members have selected superintendents to be directly in charge of the presentation of each of the two or three departments under their direction, and assistants helpers will be provided in proportion to the amount of work that each section demands.

The division of the departments, between the various members of the board, follows:

Homer J. Tice, in addition to the duties resting on him as presiding officer, will be in charge of the gates, the grandstand, tickets and admission.

Milton E. Jones, general manager of the fair, will have charge of the speed program and concessions.

J. E. Taggart, Preport, a veteran fair official, with many years of experience in the state fairs of former years, will be in charge of the beef cattle, the farm products, display and horticultural department.

T. P. Smith, Danville, will be in charge of the dairy cattle, dairy products and poultry departments.

W. R. Hayes, DuQuoin, who has gained wide recognition as the leading spirit in the formation of the DuQuoin State Fair, in his home county, Perry, and is now serving his first term on the state fair board, has been placed in charge of the heavy horse and mule departments, and of the educational branch of the fair.

Milton Hay Brown, Springfield, will direct the light horse, or night horse show section, the boys' school and the school of domestic science.

Major John McQueen, Kirkland will handle the show in the sheep pavilion, which in addition to the sheep exhibit, includes the growing milk goat exhibition, and goat milk production contest. He is also in charge of the apiary, show, and the relics department.

W. D. Alexander, Bloomington, a widely known breeder and exhibitor will have charge of the swine show, floriculture, and has supervision over the grounds, sanitation and public safety service during the fair.

Leslie P. Volz, Chicago, will direct the junior department and the Four H club camp, and the emergency hospital.

Mrs. W. H. Stuart, Chicago, the first woman to be appointed to membership on the state fair board, will have charge of the textiles and art, the culinary show and the better babies department, that the state department of public health, under the direction of Dr. Andy Hall, conducts.

BEES MAKE LONG HOP FOR POUND OF HONEY

Washington—(AP)—A pound of honey sometimes costs bees nearly 300,000 miles of flight.

Tests by the department of agriculture, with hives eight miles from the nearest nectar supply, disclosed that 18,000 trips of 16 miles each, or 288,000 miles, were required to collect a pound of honey.

Since bees flew this distance regularly, department agriculturalist believe they would go even farther if necessary.

Weekly Review of Agriculture by Farmers Paper

Chicago—(AP)—A big run of steers with weight and a decided shift in demand toward light beef caused a drop of $1.25 to $1.50 in prices of heavy steers in the last ten days, the Prairie Farmer's market review said. Light steers on the other hand, forged ahead 25 to 75 cents. Practically all of the premium which weight has commanded for many months has been lost. Choice offerings have been going at $11 at Chicago with plain steers of high finish at $8.50 to $9.50. Stockers and feeders are about $4 lower than a year ago.

"The advance in hog prices due to the scanty run early in July continued until a $10 top was reached at Chicago, after which a moderate set back occurred. Weighty butchers, from while light kinds have benefited from eastern shipper buying which has been active and promises to continue so until spring pigs begin to move more freely.

"Lamb prices staged a minor rally in the last week, but it did not carry far or last long. Although receipts on midwestern markets were light, demand for dressed lamb was poor. The fat lamb market will do well to hold its present level in the next month or so. Demand for wool has slowed down decidedly in both seaboard markets and at country prices. Prices are about steady.

"Wheat prices have been highly erratic in the last two or three weeks. At present they are close to the lowest levels yet reached. Primary receipts have been rather heavy in the Southwest, considering the reports of a holding tendency on the part of farmers.

"Corn prices have shown more strength than any other grain. Primary receipts have been extremely light for this season of the year and demand has been broad enough to take all arrivals and make steady inroads on the visible supply which is now down to 5.9 million bushels, the smallest at this season since 1920 with the exception of 1923. OKLAHOMA PUTS PLAN IN MOTION TO SAVE GAME

National and State Conservation Programs Call for Large Refuges

Oklahoma City—(UP)—Combined national and state conservation programs promise to make Oklahoma one of the greatest refuges for small animals and migratory birds in the southwest.

Oklahoma, one of the newest states in the union, plans to profit by the mistakes of her neighbors. Officials are determined that all wild life will not be annihilated before conservation is considered.

Steps are being taken to protect birds and animals before they have disappeared from the prairies where buffalo herds and Indians once roamed.

Outstanding in the national-state conservation program is the Salt Plains wild life refuge in the northern section of the state. When President Hoover signed the bill creating the preserve, migratory birds were given one of the best breeding grounds obtainable.

A section that is unusual with its vast prairies of salt, the Great Salt Plains will become a vast body of water where birds may stop while making their pilgrimages between the northern and southern boundaries of the United States.

When this project is completed approximately 26,000 acres of land will be placed under water, creating one of the southwest's largest lakes. It will be unlawful to harm or molest any bird or animal in the refuge.

As its part in the conservation program, the state has been successful in propagating quail, prairie chickens, pheasants and small game animals on more than 800 game refuges which the state game and fish department has leased for 10-year periods.

Oklahoma was the first state to adopt this plan of creating small game refuges.

These refuges range in size from 160 to 28,000 acres and are located in every county in the state. The refuges are listed under two classes, main and secondary refuges.

The 70 main refuges have a total acreage of 406,791, while the 703 secondary refuges contain 273,000 acres. Approximately 10,000 quail were released on these refuges during the last year.

In order to assure a continuous and permanent state game refuge system, the commission is leasing additional tracts this year. In that way, when the first of the 10-year leases expire the number will not be decreased, but the protected area will only shift to another section. This also will assure Oklahoma sportsmen of good shooting for an indefinite period.

Attention is also being paid to fish propagation and the commission increased the number of its fish hatcheries this year from four to five. Approximately 2,000,000 bass fry were available for distribution to Oklahoma streams this season.

HIGH COW LEE BUREAU ASSN. MAKES 69 LBS.

Ohio, Ill.—Fifty-five cows of the Lee-Bureau Counties Dairy Herd Improvement association averaged over 40 lbs. of fat in June. F. C. Albrecht had six of these. Erbes Bros. and A. D. Albrecht, 5 each; Curtis Plum & Son had 4, and Henry Albrecht, Leonard Johnson, Gloden & Bass, and Arden Jackson had 3 each; J. L. Pomeroy & Son, Frank Kirk, A. J. Yoder, H. C. Erbes Bros., 8 purebred and grade Jerseys, placed first with an average of 807 lbs. of milk and 39.7 lbs. of fat. They headed the list in May also. Following in order are the four next in production:

E. F. Erbe, 14 Jerseys, 807 lbs. of milk and 39.2 lbs. of fat. An excellent sweet clover pasture assisted this production. H. C. Baumgarten, 39 purebred and grade Guernseys, 389 lbs. of fat and 809 lbs. of milk.

L. R. Meyer, 7 grade Guernseys, 382 lbs. fat and 756 lbs. milk; Curtis Plum & Son, 11 purebred Holsteins, 1,161 lbs. milk and 38.1 lbs. of fat.

State-Grown Wheat Kept Off Markets

Springfield, Ill. —(UP)—Wheat produced on state institutional farms in Illinois this season will not be offered for sale on the open market, it was learned here today. Instead, it will be made into whole wheat cereal for consumption by the wards of the state, and into feed for the livestock and poultry maintained at the penal and charitable institutions.

The decision not to offer the wheat on the open market was announced by the State Department of Public Welfare, following a conference between Director Rodney H. Brandon and A. C. Everingham, farm, garden and dairy consultant, supervising the institution's farming operations.

The apparent surplus of wheat indicated by the carry over plus the probable 1930 crop, the officials state, influenced this decision. Instructions have been issued to the managing officers at the state institutions, directing them to refrain from selling wheat. Where grinding facilities are available, the grain will be made into a whole wheat cereal for the wards of Illinois. At either instruction, it will supplement grain rations raised to feed the livestock and poultry maintained on the institution farms.

Wheat growing, according to the farm consultant, is not a major project on the institutional farms. Yet, he said that considerable quantities of the grain will be produced at some of the state farms.

Introduce Parasite To Kill Fruit Worm

Vincennes, Ind.—(UP)—In an attempt to exterminate the oriental fruit worm which has made heavy inroads on the peach crop of southern Indiana for the past few years, a parasite which preys on the worm has been introduced into the Purdue University orchard here.

It is a wasp-like insect, imported from New Jersey, where it infests strawberry leaves and peach twigs.

Farm Population Drops, But Output Continues To Gain

BY FRANK I. WELLER (Associated Press Farm Editor)

Washington—(AP)—The exodus of workers from the farm to the city will increase rather than diminish in the future, and yet farm production will not suffer as a result.

That is the conclusion drawn by the American Research Foundation after a survey of the shifting agricultural population.

"The drift of population from the farm to the city need cause the United States no concern are agricultural future," the foundation says, "since fewer farmers are now actually doing more work and producing greater crops."

More widespread adoption of power machinery is given as the reason for striking farm population is able to maintain and even increase agricultural production. Between 1870 and 1929 the acreage farmed per worker increased 48 per cent and the production in dollars per man increased 419 per cent.

In colonial times 95 per cent of the economic producing population was farmers, yet they produced scarcely enough to feed and clothe their families. In 1920 the agricultural population was 30 per cent of the total whereas today it is estimated at less than 24 per cent.

By 1965 there probably will be 150 million people in the United States," the foundation predicts, "yet they will be fewer farmers than they required to feed the nation's 25,000 inhabitants in 1850."

The largest single development contributing to the farmer's augmented production capacity is the increasing use of trucks, petroleum driven tractors and other power machinery.

Only 11,500 trucks were manufactured in 1912. In 1929 approximately 200,000 were made and the number operated on American farms is approaching the 1,000,000 mark.

Hot Weather Cause Of Bees' Swarming

Tuscola, Ill.—(UP)—Swarms of bees which sought shelter in farm houses in this vicinity during the recent hot weather, have returned to their hives, much to the relief of farm tenants whose sense of comfort was placed in jeopardy by the buzzing activities of the apiary tribe.

B. Z. Smith who lives a short distance west of here has a rather extensive apiary at his farm. The bees began buzzing and swarming around his home, soon after the hot weather set in, and kept B. Z. busy.

Everything was tried to discourage the bees from entering the residence. Finally the owner decided to employ extreme measures and resorted to using a spray filled with carbolic acid solution.

The persistence of the bees was as great as Smith's at first but they finally surrendered and went back to their hives.

VISIBLE SUPPLY OF GRAIN

New York, July 22—(AP)—The visible supply of American grain shows the following changes in bushels: wheat increased 8,020,000; Corn decreased 671,000; Oats increased 974,000; Rye decreased 189,000; barely decreased 229,000.

Neighbor Farmers Aid Unfortunates

Gridley, Ill.—(UP)—Farmers of Gridley went to the aid of Matthew Stortz, east of here recently and shocked 60 acres of oats for him, while Stortz who has been recovering from serious injuries sustained in an accident on Memorial Day, looked on unable to help with the work.

Stortz suffered the loss of his left arm and numerous other injuries when he was caught in a corn grinding machine, while working on his farm. He had been a patient in a Bloomington hospital for a number of weeks and is now able to get around his farm with the aid of a cane but it will be weeks before he will be able to do any kind of work.

The same group of farmers who aided Stortz, later went to the farm of Andrew Hussman and assisted him in shocking his oat crop. Hussman had started the work but the critical illness of a son forced him to abandon the task before it was completed.

Chicken Thieves Use Gas To Silence 'Em

Petersburg, Ind.—(UP)—Gas, used by chicken thieves to prevent chickens they were stealing from the roost at the home of Jacob Catt, west of Petersburg, from squawking proved fatal to 25 of the fowls not taken.

A search for 50 chickens taken by the thieves was begun by officers in the belief they suffered a like fate. The chickens were reported to weigh from six to seven pounds each and were worth $75.

NEW YEAR'S AUTO PLATES BLACK ON FIELD OF GREEN

Sec. Of State Awarded the Contract For Plates To Ohio Company

Springfield, Ill. —(AP)—Illinois automobile license plates for 1931 will bear black letters on a field of light green, Secretary of State, William J. Stratton revealed in announcing the award of a contract for manufacturing the plates.

The contract was let to the W. F. Robertson Steel & Iron Company of Springfield, Ohio, on its low bid of approximately seven and nine-tenths cents per pair. This price is almost one-half cent cheaper than the cost of the plates a pair last year.

Secretary Stratton in announcing the award explained that the cost of registration per car in connection with the issuing of the plates will not be more than three and a half cents. In some states comparable to Illinois, he said, the registration cost runs as high as three dollars per car.

"All of the money collected from the Illinois automobile owners is paid into the road fund and none goes toward paying for the administration of the act," the Secretary of State said. "The small cost of administration is met by legislative appropriation from the general revenue funds of the state."

For the price stated in the contract awarded the Ohio firm today, the plates will be delivered to the Statehouse in patented envelopes with copies of the Illinois motor vehicle laws and safety first regulations. Here their handling will be assumed by the automobile department of the Secretary of State's office.

To insure uniformity in the plates and enforce all provisions of the contract, the state this year will have an inspector at the factory.

HIGH QUALIFYING LIMIT LIKELY IN WESTERN TOURNEY

Stubborn Course At Beverly Hills Whips Contenders

BULLETIN
Oliver Rogers, Jr., of Dixon, shot an 85 in his qualifying round in the western amateur golf tournament at Beverly Hills Country Club yesterday. Score: out, 39; in, 46.

BY PAUL MICKELSON
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Chicago, July 22—(AP)—A new high qualifying limit appeared certain for the thirty third western amateur golf championship today as the second half of the 36 hole drive opened over the stubborn Beverly Hills Country Club course.
So conveniently did old man par, safely entrenched behind Beverly's 6,702 yard stretch of traps, bunkers and trees, whip the contenders in the first 18 hole round yesterday that a 72, one over par, topped the large field of 215 entrants and a pair of 78's, perhaps a pair of eighties, looked good enough to land their holders among those who fight for the crown over the match play route from tomorrow on.

Lloyd Nordstrom, a rank outsider from Davenport, Iowa, who had to talk his way into the fight because his entry card had been mislaid, led the field with the 72 as the second half of the 36 hole drive opened today. One shot behind him were Cyril Toles of Great Britain, one of the big title threats, Johnny Lehman, of Chicago and Don Armstrong, of Aurora, Illinois.

Don Moe, of Portland, Oregon, the defending champion, had no worries until tomorrow because by rules he was not forced to qualify. Moe got acquainted with the course long after the last two-some had left the starting tee yesterday but in his own words his score was "terrible."

Favorites Safe
Most of the favorites appeared safe in the battle for qualification today although they were not on talking terms with par. T. Phillip Perkins, former British amateur champion, now residing in New York, and Charles "Chick" Evans, of Chicago, eight times holder of the Western title, had 75's; Bob McCrary of Des Moines, trans-Mississippi champion, and Keefe Carter, western champion in 1925, were considered safe with a pair of 77's while Gibson Dunlap of Los Angeles also had a 77. Vincent Dolp, of Portland, Oregon, Pacific coast collegiate champion, was on the border line with a 79.

Larry Molier, of Quincy, Illinois, finalist in the 1930 National Inter-Collegiate championship at Oakmont and Jack Westland, Chicago district champion faced a hard fight. Each fell before the rugged course yesterday and required 81's.

Deep traps and lightning fast, undulating greens were largely responsible for the heavy toll of strokes in yesterday's 18 hole round. Most of the players escaped the rough in good shape but dropped strokes around the carpet.

And It Didn't End in a Foul

Three times Sammy Mandell was crashed to the canvas by those stinging Singer mitts and three times he rose. Then came the fourth time, as pictured above, and Mandell fell into the ropes and rolled off to be counted out while flat on his back. With the count of 10, Al Singer, center, little Jewish fighting man from New York's Bronx sector, became lightweight champion of the world. The end was reached after one minute and 40 seconds of the first round. The above picture shows, left to right, Referee Arthur Donovan, Singer and Mandell, the defeated titleholder.

ing Shires' incapacity because of injuries and suspensions, was benched last week and Johnny Watwood, outfielder, moved to the first station. Bill Cissel was left at second but the veteran Willie Kamm, leading fielding third baseman of the American League in 1928 and 1929, was replaced by Blundy Ryan, just in from Holy Cross University. The other member of the original infield, Johnny Kerr, also was set aside in favor of a youngster—Gregory Mulleavy, shortstop acquired from Toledo.

Hints That Mandell Has Been Drugged

Rockford, Ill., July 22—(UP)—Sammy Mandell, former lightweight champion, declined to comment today on an article published in the Rockford Register-Gazette which said "circumstantial evidence indicates Mandell was drugged before his last fight, in which he lost the title to Al Singer."

"I probably have some opinions myself," Mandell said at his home here today, "but I do not wish to make a statement. I knew nothing about the story being published until it appeared in the paper."

The story, written by Richard Ramey, sports editor of the Rockford paper, said Mandell was "in a daze, as if from dope" in his dressing room after the bout. Ramey was with Mandell at his training camp and accompanied him to New York for the fight.

Ramey said he believed the "daze" was due to drugs, rather than to the knockout blow which he received from Singer. He said the former champion appeared ill after the bout, and that his tongue was badly coated.

Local Teams Trade Players a la Majors

Baseball trades are not confined to the organized leagues as was evidenced in Dixon last Sunday. The Dixon Independents secured the services of George J. Condon who was under contract to play the season with the Reynolds Wye Company team, for Witke, Gunn and Wilson. Condon is said to be under scrutiny by league scouts as he has shown up well in shortstop position. He has a batting average of .550 for 13 games. He will play his first game with the Independents against the DeKalb Red Caps on the local field next Sunday.

KING BORIS OF BULGARIA GOOD AUTO MECHANIC

Monarch Repairs Balky Motor of Friends He Found on Highway

Sofia, Bulgaria—(UP)—King Boris of Bulgaria, whose hobby is driving railway locomotives, has now stepped forth in the role of an automobile mechanic.

Two well-known Bulgarian architects, residents of Philippopolis, experienced great difficulties during a recent automobile trip, in the course of which their car repeatedly broke down. The chauffeur was unable to make the necessary repairs.

Suddenly a speeding automobile, driving along the same road, halted and King Boris stepped out. Recognizing the two architects as acquaintances, the king inquired as to the nature of their trouble. The chauffeur was unable to explain the cause of the breakdown, so the king, after sniffing at the cylinders and prowling beneath his friends' car, made his own examination and repaired the difficulty.

Turning to the chauffeur before he stepped back to his own auto, the king said, "As for you, my friend, I'd advise you not to follow a profession you don't understand."

FROG SHOOTING TRIAL ATTRACTS MUCH INTEREST

Bourges Resident Admits Campaign to Destroy All Croakers

Bourges, (UP)—The definition of fish, frogs and partridges, together with the respective merits of fishing with a gun and hunting with a rod, will provide lively arguments when the case of Monsieur Dominique Dupieux comes to trial.

For weeks the inhabitants of Bourges have been disturbed by the alternating croaks of huge frogs and the loud reports of a shot gun. Following the river bank, the police soon discovered that M. Dupieux sat at his window, night cap on head, gun in hand, blasting away and one by one silencing the frogs of the river bank whose croaking kept him awake.

Even as the alert gendarmes stood by the thundering reports continued between the intermittent and deep throated basso of the frogs. Realizing that both the hunting season was at an end, and that the fishing season was not yet on, the vigilant sentries promptly arrested Monsieur Dupieux and charged him with infraction of the game laws, with disturbing the peace at night, with fishing out of season, with shooting out of season, with killing frogs out of season and with carrying a firearm without a permit.

If it can be ascertained that Monsieur Dupieux gathered up the frogs and ate them, he will be charged with the additional crime of obtaining provender illegally.

But Monsieur Dupieux simply observes he was assisting law and order by killing the noisy frogs. He denies he was hunting, he denies he was fishing as he sat in his bed room window, and he hates the frogs with such fury he could not eat them.

The prosecutor maintains, however, that shooting frogs is no different than shooting partridges at this season, and Monsieur Dupieux by the riverbank. The case has attracted much attention throughout the region.

Again Canzoneri Found Bass Easy

Philadelphia, July 22—(AP)—Tony Canzoneri, rugged New Yorker, finds Benny Bass as easy to conquer as a junior lightweight as he did as a featherweight.

Three years ago Canzoneri won the featherweight crown from Bass and last night he gave the Philadelphia, recognized in many states as junior lightweight champion, one of the worst beatings of his career in a 10-round bout at the Phillies ball park. Bass weighed 135½, while Canzoneri weighed 129½, a quarter of a pound below the junior lightweight limit.

Due to the wording of the contract, which stipulated that the New Yorker must weigh more than 130, Frank Wiener, chairman of the commission, ordered Tony to go out and eat. When he returned he weighed 131½, the reports said that Canzoneri would claim the title because he was under the junior lightweight limit at the official weighing-in.

Bass won only three rounds, and these by narrow margins. Canzoneri took five and two were even.

ERRORGRAMS

That's Scrambled

FLIPINFAT

Always complaining.

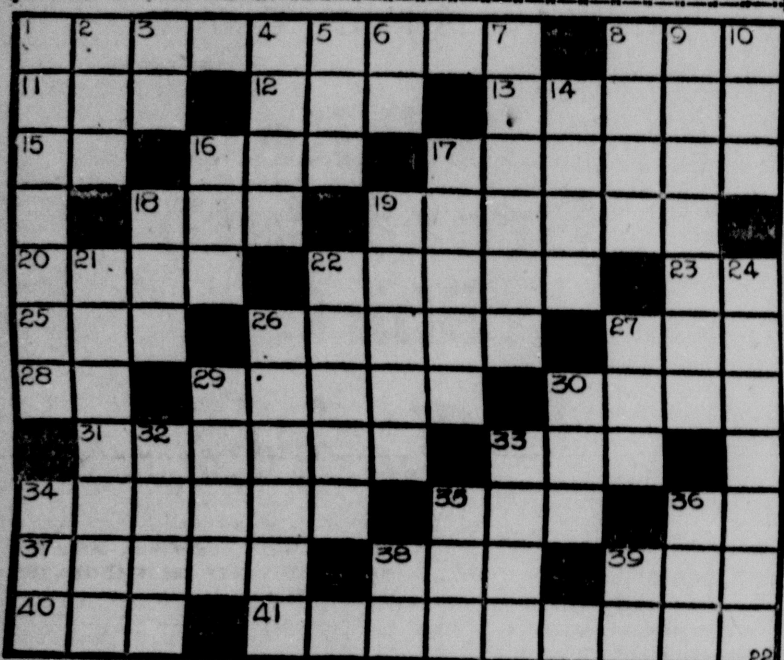

(Copyright, 1930, NEA Service, Inc.)

There are at least four mistakes in the above picture. They may pertain to grammar, history, etiquette, drawing or whatnot. See if you can find them. Then look at the scrambled word below—and unscramble it, by switching the letters around. Grade yourself 20 for each of the mistakes you find, and 20 for the word if you unscramble it. Tomorrow we'll explain the mistake and tell you the word. Then you can see how near a hundred you bat.

MONDAY'S CORRECTIONS

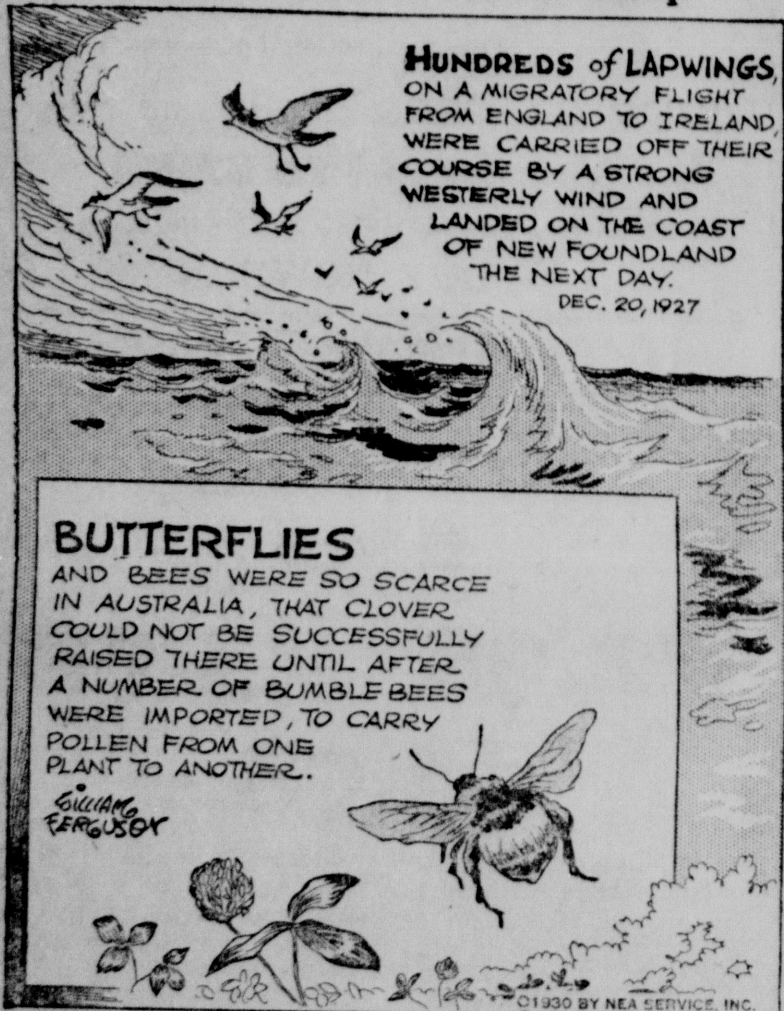

(1) The song the girl in the center is referring to is the Maine, instead of the Main, stein song. (2) Ukulele, in the conversation of the girl at the right, is spelled incorrectly. (3) Ukuleles have a round hole in the center, instead of holes like a violin. (4) The tailpiece on the ukulele is that of a violin. (5) The scrambled word is INSANITY.

ALICE M. LAWTON, Treasurer.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 18th day of July, 1930.
Lester L. Wilhelm, Notary Public.

HE gave her a cigarette, lit it, and put a light to a spirit lamp on which was a Turkish coffee-pot—an elaborate thing that Judy always admired, made of copper, with gold coins let in at the lip, and a band of turquoise all round the rim.

He came and sat down next to her; she leaned her arms on the table. She was getting tired. She hoped Madame de Toros would not be long.

"Your sister asked me why you broke off your engagement," she said, for something to say.

"What did you tell her?" "That I didn't know."

"You know very well, Judy. I did it for you."

"You never told me so."

"That wasn't necessary. You knew it all right." His voice sank and the girl, I was mad with love for you. And she made scenes. It cost me a pretty penny—two hundred thousand dollars I had to pay that old scoundrel, her father. Otherwise she'd have sued me."

Judy shrugged her shoulders. "What a pot of money!" she said. "You shouldn't have been engaged if you didn't want to marry her."

"I don't want to marry anybody. I wanted to make you jealous."

"Oh, la, la!"

The little careless exclamation, half amused, half contemptuous, had hardly left her lips when, quite suddenly, she felt that something was wrong. She did not know what it was just a feeling.

She looked at the man by her side. There was something about his eyes that she didn't like. He was breathing heavily. One large, flashy hand was straying on the back of her chair.

Judy knew the signs. She kept her head.

"The coffee is boiling over," she said coolly.

As he went across the room to lift the pot, dripping with the thick, brown, string-smelling beverage, she rose from her seat and walked around the table. She did not think he was drunk, but she knew he had had enough to drink.

The flat was very silent. She strained her ears to catch his sister's voice talking to her husband over the telephone.

Gideon came toward Judy with a brimming cup.

"I thought it had to boil three times," she said.

"What does it matter?" he asked thickly.

"I like my coffee properly made, thanks," she laughed. "I won't have any. It keeps me awake, any how."

He came around the table to her side. She did not edge away, but stared at him.

"You're wanted, Thirza," he said to his sister, when he came back. He accompanied her out of the room, and came back alone.

"It's my sister's husband ringing her up. He rang up at home, and they put him through here."

HE gave her a cigarette, lit it, and put a light to a spirit lamp on which was a Turkish coffee-pot—an elaborate thing that Judy always admired, made of copper, with gold coins let in at the lip, and a band of turquoise all round the rim.

He came and sat down next to her; she leaned her arms on the table. She was getting tired. She hoped Madame de Toros would not be long.

DANCING JUDITH

by CORALIE STANTON and HEATH HOSKEN
COPYRIGHT 1930 BY CHELSEA HOUSE

BEGIN HERE TODAY
JUDITH GRANT, artist's model, loves ALAN STEVENS, who is also loved by CHARMY HORTLEY, her best friend. Chummy had loved Steyne years ago, and lost her memory when he went away; so, though he loves Judith, Judith insists it is his duty to marry Chummy, who regains her memory when she sees him again. Judith studies dancing and becomes a star in a musical show backed by RICHARD WYON, later, however, she leaves Wyon, is merely an agent for BRUCE GIDEON, a financier who is infatuated with her. She vows to save money and pay Gideon back, so people will not think she is obligated to him. Meanwhile, Chummy learns Judith and Steyne are in love and breaks her engagement on the eve of her marriage. Judith visits at MADAME DE TOROS, his sister, if she intends to marry him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXXVI
MADAME DE TOROS walked in front of Judy toward the door. The girl noticed the little nervous, jerky movements of her small, dark head, that were due to the weight of her great, pearl-tipped diamond crown.

At the door she stopped and, passing Judy, went back to the dressing table, where she removed the ornament, taking out its fastenings—about a dozen platinum hair-pins.

"It's so heavy," she said, while Judy waited.

"I'd rather die than wear a thing like that," the girl replied, adding generously: "But you look awfully smart in it. You remind me of a queen I saw in Rome. She came to the theater. She was awfully nice to me."

Amicably chatting, the two passed down the staircase into the little paneled room where supper was laid. Gideon awaited them alone.

"Mr. Glyn couldn't come—was prevented at the last minute," he explained. "And Gostelvitsh has broken his wrist. His man just telephoned. Awkward thing for him, isn't it? But I expect he's well insured. I regret you two ladies will have to put up with me. It's too late to get any one else."

"I'm famishing," Judy replied. "I'll have some of that nice stodge-lookin' pie."

The telephone bell rang through the flat. Gideon rose and went out. "You're wanted, Thirza," he said to his sister, when he came back. He accompanied her out of the room, and came back alone.

"It's my sister's husband ringing her up. He rang up at home, and they put him through here."

NEW ENDURANCE TESTS PLANNED BUT NOT IN AIR

Horse And Mule-Pulling Contests At Many County Fairs

Urbana, Ill., July 22—Illinois is soon to be the scene of another endurance test, but this one will be fought out on the ground and not in the air where the Hunter brothers set their new world's record, it is announced by E. T. Robbins, livestock extension specialist of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Starting next month, 12 horse and mule pulling contests with two state championships at stake are to be held by the college in connection with fairs in different parts of the state. In setting their new record, the Hunter brothers kept their plane, "City of Chicago," aloft 23 days. To win a championship in the coming pulling contests a team will have to pull for a distance of 27½ feet a new-record load of the patented device known as a dynamometer.

The present record for teams weighing more than 3,000 pounds was set by a pair belonging to E. J. Longley, a Mercer county farmer living near Aledo. This team lifted a load of 3,110 pounds on the dynamometer and pulled it the required 27½ feet. The championship for teams weighing less than 3,000 pounds is held by a pair of horses owned by Ralph Reeder, a Douglas county farmer near Tuscola. They lifted 2,725 pounds and pulled it the required distance.

Oddly enough, one of the contests is to be held at Sparta, home town of the record-holding Hunter brothers. Starting at Griggsville, Aug. 12 and 13, contests will be held at the Illinois State Fair, Springfield, Aug. 20 and 21; Tuscola, Aug. 22; Knoxville, Aug. 26; Belvidere, Aug. 29; Mazon, Sept. 2 and 3; Lafayette, Sept. 5; Aledo, Sept. 6; Augusta, Sept. 11; Petersburg, Sept. 19; St. Joseph, Sept. 24, and Sparta, Sept. 26.

The contests are part of a project being conducted by the experiment station of the agricultural college to study the relationship between pulling capacity and the weight, measurements and other characteristics of horses and mules. This will be the fifth year in which such records have been taken. During the past four years a total of 43 contests have been held in the state with a total of 522 teams entered. During that time the contests have furnished thrilling entertainment for the 157,000 people who have packed the ringside, according to Robbins. In all of the tests of strength not a man nor a horse has been injured.

DOUBTED IF SHE'D EVER SEE A WELL DAY AGAIN IN LIFE

Appetite Poor, Food Hurt, Was Tired, Worn-out All of the Time; New Gly-Cas Blessed Relief.

"Surely no one could more sincerely recommend Gly-Cas to other poor suffering people than myself," said Mrs. O. F. Salkeld, wife of the pastor of the Advent Christian Church of De Kalb, Illinois, living at 430 North Seventh St., that city.

"My general system was weakened. I really doubted if I would ever see a well day again. I had such a poor appetite and the food I did try to eat caused indigestion until I would be so distressed with bloating and burning sensations in my stomach. Headaches would cause me misery also but I can truthfully say that Gly-Cas has changed all of this for me and brought my health and strength back to normal, after I had thought complete relief was out of the question. Gly-Cas fit my case exactly and did me a world of good. I am eating again and all foods without distress. I know there are others who really need this medicine but are skeptical about it and I willingly endorse it in hopes of helping those suffering people to realize that Gly-Cas is a real medicine."

Gly-Cas is sold in Dixon at the Campbell White Cross Pharmacy; W. J. Long, West Brooklyn; Franklin Grove, G. S. Ives; Polo, C. R. Clothier; Ashton, G. R. Charters; Amboy, Aschenbrenner Drug; Compton, W. H. Hills; Rochelle, Barker & Sullivan, and by leading druggists in all surrounding towns.—Adv.

Continuing our discussion of Acne begun yesterday, formerly it was believed that acne was produced by indiscretions in diet, by constipation, ill health, bacteria and other as yet unproved factors. We do know, however, that sugars, starchy foods, greasy (fried) foods, etc., readily precipitate pimples. It has not been proved that bacteria (germs) actually produce the disease, but many kinds have been found in the pustules and in abscesses. All these facts must be taken into consideration by the physician who treats acne. The disinclination to the use of soap and water for cleansing the skin is often based on fallacious reasoning and observation. Finally the hostile attitude regarding the bad (?) results of opening of the pustules and abscesses is also groundless. It has been erroneously believed that minor surgical procedures produce the pitted scarring, so frequently present, whereas the facts are that the scars actually result from not treating pimples and pustules. These ordinarily require a long time, even weeks, to disappear spontaneously, and almost invariably leave some mark or sign of their former presence. For the same and similar reasons it is essential to remove comedones which are frequently forerunners of papules.

In summary, acne is a disease of puberty and adolescence, self-limited in its course; very common; and has no serious complications of constitutional nature. It is, of course, not contagious.

The only rational plea for treatment would therefore be based on cosmetic grounds. Every young person naturally should wish to "look his or her best," both for social reasons and for reasons which require healthy appearance in professional and commercial activities.

In treatment, therefore, the physiology of the skin should be considered from the standpoint of hygiene, both local and general. Soap and water and sunlight are necessary and valuable adjuncts. The special treatments which are necessary in selected cases should be determined by the physician. It may be added that the roentgen ray (X-ray) treatment has superseded the use of vaccines, the latter being considered by the majority of skin specialists to be of practically no value.

With the roentgen ray the oiliness of the skin becomes vastly improved, and in consequence such treatment is assumed to prevent the occurrence of comedones and of papules by its action supposedly directly upon the oil-glands. This form of treatment should be given only by direction of your physician experienced in both the technicalities of the cause, the pathology and the symptomatology of the various diseases of the skin.

Gangsters' Victim Was Suffocated

Springfield, Ill., July 21—(AP)—Suffocation was the means by which gangsters put R. C. Tinscher, Terre Haute, Indiana booze runner out of the way, Dr. Walter G. Bane, Coroner's physician, told a Coroner's jury here this morning. Tinscher's was one of two bodies found near here, bound and mutilated.

Doctor Bane told the jury he found no evidence of gun shot wounds, nor any fractured bones. Hands and feet were bound, he said, the nose mashed flat, lips swollen and there was an accumulation of blood under the man's scalp.

Conditions all pointed to death by suffocation. There was no telling how long Tinscher had been kept bound, hand and foot, before he was killed, inasmuch as he bore marks showing he had struggled against the rope. But when the face was bound, it was drawn so tightly over his mouth and nose that death came as quickly as when a man drowns. He was gone within three or four minutes.

Added to folding furniture is a rocking chair which can be collapsed into a small space, its seat and back being formed of fabric.
